General

• U.S. federal income tax laws require the tax treatment of distributions described in this memorandum be based on a complex calculation of earnings and profits pursuant to Section 312 that cannot be computed until after the end of each year. Therefore, the tax treatment of the 2018 quarterly dividends on the common stock was not determined until after the close of the year. Similarly, we will not be able to accurately determine the treatment of 2019 dividends until early 2020.

- Holders of our common stock are urged to check their 2018 tax statements received from brokerage firms in order to ensure that the cash distribution information reported on such statements conforms to the information reported herein.
- B&G Foods has provided this information to the appropriate reporting companies. However, if you receive an incorrect Form 1099 from your broker you should contact your broker directly. Brokers can produce a corrected Form 1099 by accessing the information through the Depository Trust Company's databank.
- See "Questions and Answers" below for additional information.

Questions and Answers

How do holders of our common stock treat cash distributions for tax purposes?

Distributions paid on the shares of our common stock will be taxable to you as dividend income to the extent those distributions are paid out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits. If you are a U.S. individual, such dividend income will be subject to tax at long-term capital gains rates provided you meet certain holding period and other requirements. Distributions on our shares of common stock not paid out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits will be treated as a return of capital to the extent of your basis in your shares of common stock, and any such payments in excess of your basis will be taxed as capital gain.

As treatments may vary due to individual status and other considerations, B&G Foods urges holders to consult their own tax advisors for their individual treatment.

What if my broker sent me an incorrect 2018 1099-DIV?

To ensure that information regarding brokerage accounts is correctly reported to the IRS, holders who receive incorrect 1099-DIV forms should contact their brokers directly to request a corrected 1099-DIV. Brokers can access the correct information through the Depository Trust Company's databank. Unfortunately, B&G Foods cannot provide a 1099-DIV to holders who own their shares through brokers.

How will B&G Foods dividends paid in 2019 be treated?

It is possible that a portion of the dividends paid by B&G Foods during 2019 could represent a return of capital distribution to recipients for U.S. federal income tax purposes. However, the determination of the actual characterization of distributions made during 2019 cannot be determined until after the close of the year, and will be reflected in the 2019 Form 1099-DIV (sent in early 2020).
